9th Circuit Case Number(s):	11-17615
District Court/Agency Case Number(s):	2:09-md-02119-JAT
District Court/Agency Location:	U.S. District Court for Arizona, Phoenix
Case Name:	Jonathan Robinson, et al. v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, et al.
If District Court, docket entry number(s) of order(s) appealed from:	Dkt. No. 1602 (10/3/11) - Order and Certification of Final Judgment
Name of party/parties submitting this form:	Appellees GE Money Bank & American Home Mortgage Servicing, et al.

Please briefly describe the dispute that gave rise to this lawsuit.

Appellants are named plaintiffs in several putative class action and individual lawsuits challenging the use of the Mortgage Electronic Registration System (MERS) as a beneficiary on deeds of trust in non-judicial foreclosure jurisdictions. The cases were centralized in the District of Arizona by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation. (The Panel also remanded to the original courts all claims unrelated to the formation and operation of MERS from the original lawsuits.) In the consolidated actions, Appellants contend - under various statutory and common law theories of recovery - that MERS is not a valid beneficiary on the Deed of Trust and therefore the naming of MERS as such splits the deed of trust from the note rendering the notes unsecured. Appellants also contend that the involvement of MERS means that the entities that own the loans do not actually own them and the entities that service the loans do not have the right to collect loan payments or initiate foreclosure.

Briefly describe the result below and the main issues on appeal.

The District Court dismissed Appellants' Consolidated Amended Master Complaint with prejudice because Appellants had failed to state a claim as a matter of law. According to the court, Appellants made no showing that the use of MERS as a beneficiary on a deed of trust was improper or in contravention of law. The court also denied Appellants' request to amend finding that further amendment would be futile.

Describe any proceedings remaining below or any related proceedings in other tribunals.

No proceedings remain below. While some of the remanded claims that do not pertain to the use of MERS remain pending in the transferrer courts, these claims have no relation to the issues involved in the present appeal.

Provide any other thoughts you would like to bring to the attention of the mediator.

Appellees GE Money Bank & American Home Mortgage Servicing, Inc. do not believe that mediation would assist in the resolution of this appeal, which turns on a purely legal question.

Any party may provide additional information in confidence directly to the Circuit Mediation Office at ca09_mediation@ca9.uscourts.gov.
